SUMMARY

Results-driven Financial Analyst with proven experience in FP&A, variance analysis, data reconciliation, and executive financial reporting at Samsung Electronics. Proficient in SAP, advanced Excel data modeling, and P&L management, with a track record of streamlining month-end close processes and automating forecasts. Adept at collaborating cross-functionally to translate complex transactional and expense data into actionable strategic insights for C-suite leadership.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Samsung Electronics America, Plano, TX

Feb 2025-May 2026

Financial Analyst / Full-Time

- Constructed dynamic financial models in Excel (utilizing XLOOKUP, INDEX/MATCH, and Pivot Tables) to automate 3–6 month rolling forecasts, reducing manual entry errors and improving reporting efficiency during high-pressure month-end closings.
- Executed precise cost allocation, depreciation tracking, and P&L analysis for U.S. mobile product segments, evaluating asset replacement structures to uncover margin-improvement opportunities and optimize profitability.
- Delivered executive-ready ad-hoc financial variance analysis directly to senior leadership, synthesizing complex financial structures into clear, actionable recommendations for strategic business decisions.
- Leveraged SAP to extract large datasets and validate inputs against HQ guidelines, directly executing system postings for material costs, overhead, aging inventory, and sales volumes to resolve ledger discrepancies and ensure data accuracy.

KOTRA Dallas, Plano, TX

June 2024-Feb 2025

Global Business Development Analyst / Full-Time

- Formulated strategic market-entry frameworks for corporate clients expanding into North America, evaluating market sizing, pricing models, and financial viability.
- Conducted comprehensive market research and corporate financial analysis for 4–5 companies monthly, delivering data-backed reports on industry cost structures.
- Coordinated cross-functional stakeholders and regulatory compliance requirements to facilitate strategic partnership execution.

Bongryong Kim, CPA, Carrollton TX
